Why Support Services is the right career for you

- Just out of school and looking for a career with a future?
- Looking to return to the workforce?
- Graduating from tertiary studies and seeking experience in the community sector?
- Want to work for a not-for-profit organisation and make a difference in your community?
- Want to position your career in the fastest expanding sector in Victoria?
- Want to develop real, transportable skills?

Previous experience in disability support or mental health isn't necessary. We provide ongoing training and coaching so you can continually learn how to actively engage and support people in their lives.
